WELCOME GREETINGS

Mr. Keiichi Kuwahara, Mayor of Fukuoka

Thank you. My name is Keiichi Kuwahara, Mayor of Fukuoka City.

On behalf of the Asian-Pacific City Summit Executive Committee, formed by local industry, academia and government and introduced a short while ago, I would like to say a few words of welcome. It is our great pleasure to have you here in Fukuoka. I am honored to share these four days with you, from today to September 25.

As indicated by many artifacts and historical sites such as the Gold Seal conferred to the King of Na (present day Fukuoka) by Emperor Guang Wu of the Han Dynasty of China in 57 A. D. and the Korokan Ruins, an ancient guest house which dates back to between the 7th and 11th Centuries, Fukuoka City has developed as a key city of exchange between Japan and the Asian Continent, and played an important role as the crossroads for economics and culture.

Fukuoka has also preserved traditional events from ancient times, such as the Hakata Gion Yamakasa with its 750 year history, one of the three most significant festivals in Japan.

Supported by such a long history, Fukuoka is actively promoting its position for the 21st Century as a key city of Asia, open to the sea.

I hope you will be able to see and feel, during your stay, how the city is being developed and created under that theme. I would also be grateful if this summit provides all of you with new opportunities to enhance mutual exchange.

In conclusion, I heartily wish you enjoy your stay in Fukuoka. I give you my warmest welcome and best wishes for the future.

Thank you for your attention. (Applause)

GREETINGS BY GUEST REPRESENTATIVE

His Excellency Mr. Poeji Koentarlo

Ambassador Extraordinary and

Plenipotentiary of Indonesia to Japan

Honorable Mr. Keiichi Kuwahara, Mayor of Fukuoka, distinguished guests, ladies and gentlemen. It's an honor for me on behalf of the investors and the representatives of the respective embassies in Tokyo to say a few words of gratitude for the invitation extended to us to come to the beautiful city of Fukuoka to attend the Asian-Pacific City Summit.

The efforts taken by the Fukuoka Authority to bring about 21 heads of local governments from the Asian-Pacific region to come together to share their knowledge and exchange views on common urban problems is indeed commendable. With the rapidly growing Asian-Pacific region in the rise of the urban problems as a result of economic growth, there is a need for a forum to discuss and find solutions to the problems. Asian-Pacific is a forum to enable to build a network of cooperation with Asian-Pacific cities.

The holding of this Pacific Summit is again a reflection of the Fukuoka city's strong determination to open its region to the outside world, particularly active exchanges with various Asian-Pacific cities. Such exchanges, no doubt, will promote good will and better understanding, which will lead to the strengthening of the existing friendly relations among the peoples of the region.

I sincerely hope that the participating cities will have the maximum benefit from the Summit so that the theme, "Harmony Between Urban Development and Human Living Environment in Asian-Pacific Area" could be realized.

Finally, I would like once again to thank Fukuoka city for the hospitality extended to us, and wish that the Asian-Pacific City Summit will come to a successful conclusion.

Thank you very much. (Applause)

GREETINGS BY THE REPRESENTATIVE OF FUKUOKA CITY

Keiichi Kuwahara, Mayor of Fukuoka

Good evening, ladies and gentlemen. I would like to thank all of you for your attention and assistance for the three days from the 22nd. With your cooperation, I am confident the conference will be a great success.

I think this conference will contribute to building a network among the mayors of twelve cities from overseas as well as the mayors of Kyushu. Future conferences will bring us to an even deeper friendship.

It is a great pleasure for me that this conference will be continued in the future and that we reached the consensus to hold the second conference in Guangzhou in 1996. To remind you of tomorrow's schedule, we are planning to take you to various places such as Fukuoka City's incineration plant, Fukuoka Dome and an art museum. At night, you will be invited to participate in the Asian Month festival. I hope you will have a wonderful time in Fukuoka.

As the staff from City Hall is with us tonight, I'd like to thank them for their efforts and commitment to this conference. I hope they enjoy this party as well.

Thank you. (Applause)

GREETINGS BY THE REPRESENTATIVE OF PARTICIPATING CITIES

Dr. Leung Ding Bong, Ronald, Chairman, Urban Council of Hong Kong

Your Excellency, Mayor Keiichi Kuwahara, honorable mayors of participating cities, distinguished guests, ladies and gentlemen.

On behalf of all the participants of this summit conference, we must thank the city.

of Fukuoka, the organizing committee members, and all those involved in making this a conference a big success. I believe a great deal of time, effort, and resources have been put into making this a conference a big success.

We are very impressed by the warm hospitality and the excellent arrangements in the traditional Japanese manner. I am sure you will all agree we have learned a great deal from one another, our problems in our own cities. We also learned the strategies and the proposed solutions for these problems. It is a good beginning that we have started this close networking of the cities of the Asian-Pacific region for further exchange of information and experiences to further improve our city administration.

Now it is time to say good bye, but we must leave with the conviction that this City Summit, so admirably launched by Fukuoka city, will have to continue to flourish.

I am sure we are all very pleased to note that Guangzhou city has take up the responsibility to host the next summit in 1996, and I appeal to you all, honorable mayors and participants, to render your cooperation and your assistance in the forthcoming two years.

Lastly, to Fukuoka city, I must say, "Domo arigato gozaimashita. Sayonara." (Applause)
